Bridge Authority Says Ferry Paid Its Way in 1946

Ferry Carried 18,850 Cars, 12,207 Pedestrians and Took In $31,748 in Eight Months

According to figures released Saturday by the State Bridge Authority derived from the operation of the ferry George Clinton, plying between Kingston and Rhinecliff, paid all operating costs without dipping into the Authority's funds.

The Bridge Authority also announced it has $994,000 on deposit and a bonded debt of $600,000. If the bonded debt was paid off, the authority would still have a surplus of $394,000.

Secretary William K. Haggitt, both of the Bridge Authority, pointed out that the $800,000 bridge bonds were not due until 1951, but that the Bridge Authority had sufficient funds to pay them at once if so desired.

Figures given out by the Bridge Authority show that during the approximately eight months of ferry operation that the ferry carried 18,850 vehicles and 12,207 passengers, and the total amount of fares collected amounted to $31,748.

The ferry ceased operation on December 31, 1946 and it is planned to resume operations by April 1, according to the Bridge Authority. Operation of the ferry service began on May 16 of last year, and operated on an 11-hour schedule. There were only two days suspension of service when necessary repairs had to be made to the ferryboat.

Secretary Haggitt said today that the net revenue of ferry operations have not been computed.

The ferry cost $175,000 and the terminal is approximately $25,000.

Favors Authority, is Report

Robert H. Haggitt, chairman of the State Bridge Authority, reporting on a conference held by members of the Authority and Governor Thomas E. Dewey, gained the impression from the conference that Governor Dewey did not want to terminate the Bridge Authority; that he felt the bridge could be operated better by a local group of men.

Mr. Haggitt was reappointed for a three-year term as a member of the Bridge Authority. The term of James F. Loughran of this city, the Ulster county member of the Authority, expires on February 1 of this year.

The chairman of the Bridge Authority was quoted as saying that the Authority members had informed the governor at the conference last week that they had a $363,000 surplus over the amount of the bonded debt and that the Authority could be terminated when the debt was paid.

Mr. Haggitt emphasized that the governor had made no decision on continuance of the ferry service, but he added that "I gained the impression he did not want to terminate the Bridge Authority."

The Authority recently paid $100,000 of its previous bonded debt on the Bear Mountain Bridge, leaving a balance of $800,000 in bonded debt, Mr. Haggitt said.

1,500 Pheasants Destroyed in Fire

High Woods Farm Scene of Three-Hour Blaze; Brooder Burns

A large brooding house on the Anderson pheasant farm in High Woods was partially destroyed by fire, with a loss of nearly 1500 baby chicks, about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The Centerville fire company led by Chief Charles Riley battled the blaze for nearly three hours before bringing it under control.

The fire of undetermined origin was discovered by Mr. Anderson about 3 o'clock. He flashed the alarm to the Centerville department, and approximately 25 men rushed to the scene. They laid 1500 feet of hose and used two streams on the conflagration.

The baby chicks were in rearing pens in a two-story frame building about 200 feet long when the fire started. Two hundred grown pheasants were able to escape the flames. The fire spread so rapidly in the upper half of the structure that Mr. Anderson was unable to save any of the chicks.

It could not be learned if the building or brooder was covered by insurance. The Centerville fire chief said he could not estimate the total fire damage.

Mr. Anderson had recently purchased the property from James Cool, who had operated it as a poultry farm.

Ramadier Is Expected To Appear for Confirmation

Paris, Jan. 20 (AP)—Premier-Designate Paul Ramadier is expected to appear before the National Assembly tomorrow for confirmation of a coalition cabinet containing five Communists, regardless of whether former Premier-President Georges Bidault's M.R.P. party supports him.

Politicians said today Ramadier would give his Socialist party severance positions, although it is out-ranked by both the Communists and the Popular Republican Movement (M.R.P.). Both those parties and the radical Socialists would get five posts each and two would go to independents, it was said.

Ramadier rejected an M.R.P. proposal to split the National Defense Ministry and was reported planning to give the intact posi-

Byrd Says Spending Can Be Cut

Virginia Democrat Has Opinion 32 Billions Would Be Enough for Government

Asks Rigid Rules

With Strict Attention to Savings, Budget 'Could Be Lower'

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va.), topped some Republican demands for economy today with an assertion that government spending can be cut to $32,000,000,000 in the next year.

Byrd's estimate—$5,500,000,000 below President Truman's budget figure—was given to a reporter before the four taxing and appropriating committees of the two houses convened to take an official look at the nation's prospective income and outgo.

This committee, charged with making the two ends of the financial chain meet, gathered as Congress prepared for a busy week of acting on war fraud investigations, beginning studies of air safety and starting hearings on labor dispute legislation.

Byrd, a member of the Senate Finance Committee and a veteran spender for economy, said his studies indicate the budget for the year beginning next July 1 might be carried over below the $32,000,000,000 figure he regards as a maximum.

Asks Rigid Economy

"By rigid economy and close investigation of the proposed spending items, I believe we can make even larger reductions than have been anticipated in some quarters," the Virginia Democrat said.

While Senator Taft (R-Ohio), and some other G.O.P. leaders have shied away from any slash in the $112,000,000,000 fixed in the White House budget for military expenditures, Byrd said he believes savings can be made there by more efficient administration without impairing national defense.

He estimated that 1,000,000 of the 2,400,000 government employees could be cut off the pay rolls "without impairing efficiency."

Taft has been talking about a $3,500,000,000 cut in the budget, a figure that some Republicans have indicated they think is too low. He also has urged a 20 per cent cut in income taxes.

But Byrd said he doesn't want to see any tax reductions until the budget figure comes tumbling down.

Checkup Is Due On Those Enrolled In Fluorine Tests

Parents Will Be Asked to Take Children to Clinic; to Enroll 100 Babies

Parents of children and infants who were enrolled in the fluorine study clinic in Kingston a year ago may expect to receive a call for an appointment shortly when the children enrolled a year ago will be given a checkup. In addition to the 500 who were enrolled last year in the clinic an additional 100 babies under one year of age will be added to this group this year, making a total group of 600 which will come under the fluorine study clinic.

The fluorine study clinic is a project by the State Department of Health to study a group of children who match child for child a group in Newburgh, where fluorine has been introduced in the drinking water since 1944. A 10-year test will be made to determine the benefits which come from the introduction of fluorine in the water. The 600 infants and children selected are in an age group from birth to 10 years of age and each year a careful study is made of the groups for any effect of the fluorine in the Newburgh group. Doctors are confident that the effect will be entirely beneficial and anticipate that dental decay will be cut in half by the treatment of the drinking water.

To Compile Results

Results of the study in Newburgh will be compiled as will the results of the group from Kingston which will not have the benefit of the fluorine. From the two groups, which have been selected from a cross section as to the benefits derived from the addition of fluorine to drinking water.

As last year the children will receive careful pediatric history and physical examination with X-ray study of rapidly growing bone of the wrist and knee and a complete blood count and urinalysis.

The enrolled group of infants and children has been selected both in Kingston and Newburgh with extreme care to secure a representation of children from all parts of the cities and from all social groups of the area.

In the clinic an attempt has been made to enroll only children whose families have agreed to have the children attend the clinic regularly for the duration of the study which will continue for a period of 10 years.

The study will be conducted in the Kingston city clinic room at 25 East O'Reilly street by Dr. J. E. Overton, pediatricist, assisted by a staff including laboratory technician, two nurses and a dental hygienist.

The first clinic will be held on Wednesday, January 22, and families of children who have been enrolled can anticipate a call from the nurse for an appointment. Since the examinations will be of a very thorough nature only a few will be called at a time but the entire group will be given an appointment and parents are asked to stand by for a call. Several weeks will be required to complete the study and examinations.

Mrs. D. Gregory Badger, chairman of the Committee of Volunteers for the Ulster County Health Department, is organizing a group of volunteer women to assist in the fluorine study clinic.

Speaks for Palestine

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Rep. Javits (R-N.Y.), member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, urged Congress today to help in setting up a Palestine commonwealth.

Reaching on a tour through Palestine and Greece last fall, he told his colleagues "the situation of the Jews in Europe and Palestine will grow worse on aid unless the longer a solution is deferred."

Javits recalled that he and Senate and House last year approved a resolution which provided that the United States should "use its good offices" to obtain freedom of Jews into Palestine.

Decisions Not Influenced

New York, Jan. 20 (AP)—Federal Judge Frank Picard, from whose original ruling stemmed the series of portal-to-portal pay suits, said today that his "decisions" have never at any time been influenced by his pro-labor or pro-capital views. Ice Slows Travel On Highways in County Sections

Ellenville Schools Do Not Open; Highland Area Has Little Ice, Police Say

Later in the day the temperature was slightly higher and roads were reported in better condition although sanding operations were required.

In the mountain area highways were slippery but no accidents were reported. From the Highland State Police station it was reported that roads in that area were not unduly dangerous and little ice had formed during the early hours of the day.

Eastland Suggests Probe of Judge

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Senator Eastland (D-Miss.) today suggested the House of Representatives investigate, "with a view to impeachment," Federal Judge Frank Picard whose original decision touched off the recent series of portal-to-portal pay suits.

Eastland advocated the inquiry at a hearing of the Senate judiciary subcommittee which is considering measures to outlaw more than $4,000,000,000 in back portal pay claims. He spoke up after hearing testimony concerning remarks which the Detroit jurist allegedly made during a portal pay suit filed against the Chrysler Corporation.

The witness who told of the alleged remark was Theodore R. Iserman, a New York attorney. He represented the Chrysler Corporation during the portal suit.

Griffin Says Collins Delayed Dispatch of Flood Convoy

Atlanta, Jan. 20 (AP)—Herman Talmadge, in a brief face-to-face encounter in the executive chambers, today refused to recognize Lieut. Governor M. E. Thompson as acting governor of Georgia, but reiterated a promise to abide by a court decision in the controversy.

Thompson then set up an acting Governor's office in the suite on the floor above normally occupied by the President of the State Senate.

Meanwhile there were these other developments in the dual control of the state's government: 1. Students of five Atlanta colleges and the University of Georgia at Athens, 70 miles away, planned a march on the state capitol tomorrow to protest Talmadge's assumption of the executive office.

2. The State House of Representatives, by an 88 to 64 vote, decided to invite Talmadge to address a joint session of the legislature tomorrow as Governor. The Senate must act on the resolution. Efforts to have Thompson's name added to the resolution failed.

3. Attorney General Eugene Cook announced that he recognized Thompson as the "Acting Governor" and would substitute his name for that of Ellis Arraiz in a court suit challenging Talmadge's occupation of the Governor's office.

4. Thompson, before the State Senate, retook the oath as Lieutenant Governor and added the words "I will faithfully exercise the executive power of the state of Georgia." Thompson's addition of the regular oath brought a move to have it stricken from the Senate Journal but the move was ruled out of order.

Blames Collins

5. Marvin Griffin, who is serving as Talmadge's Adjutant General accused Col. R. W. Collins, Thompson's military chief, of delaying more than eight hours the dispatching of a convoy of National Guard trucks for flood relief at Rome, Ga. Collins was not available for a statement.

6. The House of Representatives received a bill to establish a white primary in Georgia. Talmadge and Thompson have agreed to such a bill.

Talmadge, at the first of his two daily press conferences, said that meetings being held in protest to his assumption of the executive powers were "the same crowd who tried to destroy the county unit and the white primary systems."

Georgia's Democratic primaries are held under the county unit system which is similar to the U.S. electoral system with counties having unit votes based on population.

Talmadge and Thompson shook hands after their encounter in the executive chambers.

Greek Ministry Says 437 Persons Died in Sinking

Athens, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Merchant Marine Ministry today increased to 437 the list of persons missing and believed dead in the sinking of the 1,800-ton Greek steamer Chimarra, which went down 20 miles east of Athens yesterday after an explosion officially blamed on a mine.

The latest figures radioed here from shipping offices in Salonika indicated the doomed vessel was carrying 548 passengers and a crew of 87 when she left there Saturday.

Thus far, the Marine Ministry said, only 198 survivors are definitely known.

Officials of the ministry declined to comment on a report that the former German passenger ship was a victim of sabotage. There was no indication, however, that they gave any credence to the report.

Aristides Mytakis, a 44-year-old school teacher who survived the disaster, estimated that almost 200 of the casualties were women and children.

"I am afraid every child aboard was lost and 95 per cent of the women," he said.

Mytakis said the ship sank so quickly that only two of her lifeboats could be launched. He described the vessel's decks as a "solid wall of cursing, fighting men" struggling frantically to save their lives.

The Chimarra, which sailed from Salonika Saturday, hit the mine a few miles off shore from Rafina. Mytakis said the ship's master attempted to beach the vessel, but was prevented from doing so by a broken rudder control.

Would Make New Laws Regarding Sex Cases

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 20 (AP)—A legislative inquiry designed to bring about "intelligent and realistic" treatment of sex offenders is sought by two Queens Republicans.

Senator Seymour Halpern, of Kew Gardens, and Assemblyman George Archinal of Queens announce they will introduce in the legislature tonight a resolution to create a 10-member joint legislative committee to carry out the proposed study.

The committee, to consist of three Senators, four assemblymen, and three advisory members named by the Governor, would have a $25,000 appropriation and report by March 1, 1948.

"For too long a time sex offenders have been treated as just criminals in the eyes of our courts," the legislators said in a statement. "They would be sentenced to prison terms" and "turned loose."

"Just confining these persons is

The committee would have full power to survey laws in relation to diagnosis, methods of treatment, nature of cases in institutions and types of institutions. The committee also would review penal laws relating to punishment of persons convicted of sex offenses.

Mayors Hear How Cut in Federal Aid Can Injure Nation

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Former Mayor Walter C. Chandler of Memphis, Tenn., urged the United States Conference of Mayors today to request Congress "most earnestly" to cut federal aid for airports, highways, hospitals and education.

Expressing concern over what may happen to these projects in the current Congressional drive for economy, Chandler declared:

"Any drastic curtailment of projects designed for the security and protection of the nation will be justified, but the theory that the budget must be balanced at once regardless of the consequences."

Chandler also told the 350 municipal leaders attending the three-day conference that a nationwide campaign must be organized to obtain passage of long-range legislation for Federal aid to housing.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, president of the conference, urged his colleagues to address themselves to three "pressing problems" confronting all cities.

1. Obtaining larger share of tax revenues collected by the states, to which city dwellers contribute heavily and, he said, receive so little in return that municipal governments are forced to resort to sales taxes and other "new and novel" forms of taxation.

2. The "more or less universal" problem of traffic and parking. Unless it is solved, Kelly observed, the central areas of many cities will suffer.

3. Rehabilitation of city plants and buildings, neglected throughout the war.

Evening Verse

(For Your Sabbath) By DANIEL L. O'CONNOR

That "Lived-In" Look

Our house had such a "lived-in" look With odds and ends in every nook I often pause and glance around Where countless bits of home abound The living room has mending needs A dozen papers, shells and beads Old letters, cards, photographs And piles that sought election votes The dining room is restful, too A sort of package, endowment Where purses, books and shopping bags Explain why mother's table sags The kitchen boasts of landing stairs Bedecked in plants and sundry wares A box of tools, a button jar A fishing hat, and there you are If Father's closet merits fame This room of ours deserves the same The home we love inspires a book That we'll just call "That Lived-In Look"

Cold Front May Halt Unseasonable Warmth in East

(By The Associated Press)
Moderate cold moved into the plains states and upper Mississippi valley today and forecasters expected that it would extend far enough south to halt rains which have caused the Tennessee river to overflow its banks.

The cold front was moving eastward through Iowa, Minnesota and western Wisconsin early today. At Chicago, Ill., reported winds of 36 m.p.h., with gusts reaching 48 m.p.h. The cold was also expected to bring a halt to rains which have accompanied unseasonably warm weather in some sections of the east.

No serious damage was reported in the Tennessee valley, but as the river rose in Tennessee and Alabama, residents took flood precautions. At Chattanooga, the level was a foot above flood stage and several families in low areas faced the necessity of moving. The rains were expected to end tonight.

In northwestern Montana, rescue crews used bulldozers and rotary snow plows along a 40-mile stretch of snow-packed road to reach 300 marooned residents in the town of Babb. The area has been surrounded for several weeks by 10-foot drifts on the roads and supplies were reported running low.

Fears Native Forest Trees 'On the Way Out'

Shokan, Jan. 18—Farmers and other woodlot owners are currently much concerned over the increasing number of casualties among their red oak trees. The plague is not a bark blight, such as has been killing off the rock oaks for the past several years, but rather the work of borers. Brownish patches appear on the red oak bark, somewhat similar to the old chestnut blight, but closer examination of these sap stains reveals a hole in the tree bole about the diameter of a lead pencil. Farmers upon chopping up the tree into buzz-saw lengths, find that the borer has gone straight up the center of the tree thus sapping nutrition from the branches and foliage.

Many woodmen are becoming increasingly pessimistic about the future of timber and firewood; they declare that, as of today, practically the only natives forest tree not "on its way out" is the hemlock—a thing of beauty and a joy to the eye but of little economic value except for shade, rough lumber and Christmas trees.

Wood Taken From Brain

New York, Jan. 20 (AP)—Andrew Kalozny, 60, from whose brain an inch-long piece of wood was extracted early yesterday at Bellevue Hospital, remained in a critical condition today, attendants said. Victim of what police described as a "terrific beating" by unknown assailants in his lower east side room, Kalozny suffered a skull fracture and other injuries. The piece of wood may have been part of a chair rung with which Kalozny was beaten, police said.

Leave Liquor, Silver

Old Westbury, N. Y., Jan. 20 (AP)—Only the well-stocked liquor cabinet and a vault containing silver were ignored by painstaking burglars who ransacked the 65-room mansion here of J. Watson Webb, socialite and big game hunter, in what police say was probably a two-day job. A gardener discovered the burglary over the week-end. Preliminary checks showed at least four fur coats and a large quantity of other clothing was taken.

Press Is Invited

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 20 (AP)—More than 50 New York state newspaper publishers and editors have been invited by Governor Dewey to the executive mansion January 29 to discuss the state budget he will submit to the Legislature. The discussion continues a custom of New York governors for more than a decade.

Upturn in Seed Samples

Better than a 25 per cent increase in the number of samples received in the seed testing laboratory at the State Experiment Station at Geneva during the past six months over the same period a year ago is reported by the seed analysts. In the opinion of the station officials, seedsmen are taking no chances on the quality of the seeds they will offer for sale in 1947. At the turn of the year the seed testing laboratory had received the unprecedented number of 10,704 samples, an all-time high previous six months' period. For the same period a year ago, 7,432 samples were received, which in itself set a new record for the laboratory.

Red Flag Is Flying Over Oberlin Campus

Oberlin, O., Jan. 20 (AP)—The red flag of Communism hung from the 45-foot pole in front of the administration building at Oberlin college today, while school officials awaited the arrival of workmen to cut it down.

Whoever hoisted the flag some time Saturday night cut the ropes so it could not be hauled down. Lester S. Pies, building superintendent, said it probably would be necessary to employ a steeljack, at a cost of from $50 to $60, to remove it.

William E. Stevenson, president of Oberlin College, called the flag raising "a silly, childish prank," and added:

"Something like this happens every year when the sap begins to flow."

A year ago someone put a pair of pajamas atop the pole. Neckties were hung there in 1945.

We Are Reducing Prices of All Ford Cars

"as much as $50 on some models" Effective Immediately

A Statement by Henry Ford II

"Although more than one million of our customers are waiting for delivery of their cars at present prices, we are immediately reducing the price of every Ford car—some models as much as $50.

"This is our 'down payment' toward a continued high level of production and employment in the months ahead. We believe that the 'shock treatment' of prompt action is needed to halt the insane spiral of mounting costs and rising prices and to restore a sound base for the hopeful period of post-war production we are now entering.

"Let me review briefly the considerations which have led us to take this important step.

"The Ford Motor Company is in the mass production business. Mass production depends upon large markets. It will continue to succeed only if it can produce more and more at lower and lower cost so that more and more people can buy. Large markets begin to disappear when prices rise.

"The un-American spiral of mounting costs and rising prices has hurt everybody—some groups more than others. Many have not benefited from post-war wage increases, but have had to share the burden of resulting higher prices. Already, millions of American families are unable to buy the things which, in normal times, make up their standard of living. In the short view, we can see inflation. In the long view, there is danger of depression.

"The period since V-J Day has been an unhappy and costly period of reconversion to peacetime production. Ford Motor Company has lost millions of dollars since V-J Day, even after all tax adjustments.

"But the crisis of this wild aftermath of war seems to have been passed. Our own production, though still limited by material shortages, is now steadier. Productivity of our employees, which hit a new low during the period, seems to have started its return to normal. Ford Motor Company made a modest profit for the last three months of 1946, and we intend to continue to operate in the black.

"The American economy now stands at a turning point. Mounting costs and rising prices have warranted caution and hesitancy. There is even general fear that this dangerous, un-American cycle cannot be corrected without an economic recession. We think this fear can be dispelled by common sense and action. And among free men that becomes an individual responsibility.

"The Ford Motor Company therefore proposes to accept its losses since V-J Day as an item of the cost of a great and victorious war. We are closing our books on that phase of our production history. We have decided that now is the time for us to make an investment in the future.

"Because they must build up depleted cash reserves or because they are still losing money, many businesses may not be able to follow suit. But we hope that our suppliers, our employees, and our other economic partners will back, each to his own ability, our attempt to return to the economic pattern which has helped to make America great—the principle that higher wages and a higher standard of living for all depend upon lower costs and lower prices through increasingly efficient large-scale production.

"We hope, as we move forward, that we will be able to reduce prices further, and that we will not be forced to raise them again to compensate for cost increases."

FIX UP YOUR HOME

Make Smart Slip Covers
If a Christmas-wearied subject is keeping you from replacing that worn sofa and armchair, why not hide their defects under a couple of lovely slip covers. Make them yourself, of course!

There are many types of attractive materials to choose from; be guided by the type of chair to be covered, and the amount of wear the chair will get. Allow generously for seams, and make sure that washable material is pre-shrunk and color-fast.

The material is then fitted, pinned and cut right on the chair, so the finished slip cover is bound to fit perfectly.

Our Reader Service booklet gives, step-by-step instructions for measuring, fitting and sewing slip covers of many types. Each step is clearly illustrated.

Send 25 cents (coin) for "Making Slip Covers Successfully" to Kingston Daily Freeman, Reader Service, 243 W. 17th street, New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address, booklet title and No. 35.

Good Taste
Today

WHEN BORROWED ARTICLE IS LOST

The question of replacing something broken or lost is always difficult and most often unsatisfactory. A letter explains as follows: "I offered a friend an old necklace to wear when she was married. It was lovely and at the same time it satisfied the girl's sentiment about wearing something old. In dollars and cents I think the necklace was probably worth very little. After she returned from her extended wedding trip, I still did not get my necklace back. So I asked her one day and with great embarrassment she explained that she had lost it and was sorry. That was the end of the necklace. She has made no attempt to replace it or to show me, any further that she is sorry. What do you think I should do?"

There is nothing to do except try to forget about it. However, you might take it as a lesson for the future and don't lend again anything of value which you care very much and which cannot be duplicated if lost. This particular bride most certainly should have come to you and explained what happened. Moreover, if possible, she should have bought you another necklace, even though this could not possibly take the place of the old one.

Inviting Office Associates

Dear Mrs. Post: I am being married soon and am wondering how to address invitations to the married associates in my office. I do not know their husbands at all. Should I address the invitations to "Mr. and Mrs.?"

Answer: If the invitations are sent to the office, you may address them to your office associates alone. But if the invitations are sent to their homes, they should be addressed "Mr. and Mrs.," and if a wedding takes place on a Saturday, Sunday, or any time the office is closed, it would be proper for the husbands (or wives) to come to the wedding even though they are strangers.

A Lady Answers

Dear Mrs. Post: What does a lady say, correctly, when a gentleman thanks her for a dance?

Answer: She answers, "Thank You," or implies as much by saying, "That was wonderful" (which might be the music or his dancing) or perhaps, "Nobody dances as you do" (which might mean anything).

Oppose Jury System

Madura, India, (AP)—The lawyers conference of Madras province, one of the most reputable legal organizations in India, has been appealed for abolition of the jury system on the grounds that the evils it leads to "are much greater than the benefits." Numerous publications have claimed that the jury system, brought in by the British, was not suited to the Indian mentality. Most common cause for "fixing" a jury was much greater than "fixing" a judge, and that juries in India are more inclined to be biased toward friends and neighbors.

Stellar Program Set for Shriners Ball on Thursday

A program of comedy, novelty and thrills will be presented Thursday evening at the annual entertainment and ball of the Kingston Shriners' Association in the municipal auditorium for the benefit of the Industrial Home.

The entertainment committee announced today that the entire program has been arranged, and the committee believes it will provide one of the finest groups of vaudeville acts ever presented at the annual ball.

Marvin and Martinez, a dance team direct from Radio City Music Hall, will head the program. These are two beautifully dressed, smart, sophisticated dancers in a diversified dance offering.

Other acts include Emmet Oldfield and Eddie Ware, two comedians in a side splitting offering "Two Pages from Esquire." This act has appeared at many of the leading night clubs throughout the country.

Roy Rogers, well known in the high class night clubs of New York, will provide a novelty number, and the Musical Arnolds, two young modern magicians will present a fast moving act of sensational magical intrigues.

To round out the well balanced program the Shriners have engaged the troupe of young dancing and tumbling artists known as the Crackerjacks. In a versatile routine of sensational tumbling and dance numbers.

In order that all may see and enjoy the show the Shriners will stage the entertainment from the floor of the auditorium.

Music for the concert, entertainment and dancing will be provided by the famous Meyer Davis orchestra.

The doors will open at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, and a concert will be given by the orchestra at 8:30, followed by the floor show from 9 to 10 o'clock, which will be followed by dancing until 12:30 a. m.

Those who have not already secured their tickets can purchase them at the door Thursday evening.

Mohican Observes 20th Anniversary In Kingston City

Twenty years ago on January 22 the Mohican Market opened its new store on John street, opposite the John street parking grounds. Emile Trowbridge, manager of the Mohican Market, had come to Kingston on January 6, 1927, to take over the management of the store which was then located on Wall street in the McCabe Restaurant building and he has since remained in charge of the Kingston store.

The John street building was erected by the late Frank Forman and was specially designed for the Mohican Market. Prior to moving to the present site on John street Mohican had been located on Wall street, first in the store which preceded the building destroyed by fire on Christmas eve, was located where the Financier clothing store now is, and later in the McCabe building.

On the twentieth anniversary of moving to the John street location, Mohican offers to the public a complete line of groceries, meats, fish, bakery, fruits and vegetables and dairy products.

America's Statesmen in Crisis

(AP) Newsfeatures

Since November, 1944, four men have been secretary of state for the United States. Each has made a record for outstanding achievement in meeting foreign problems in one of the most difficult periods in the country's history.

CORDELL HULL was in control of the department during most of the depression, the preparations for war and most of the war against the Axis.

EDWARD R. STETTINIUS, JR., was named secretary in November, 1944, dealt with war problems and directed the setting up of United Nations.

JAMES F. BYRNES took office in July, 1945, and conducted difficult negotiations at London, Moscow, Paris and New York in pursuit of peace.

GEN. GEORGE C. MARSHALL, war leader of the U. S. Army, has been conducting peace talks in China and has had a role in international affairs.

Marshall Will Take His Oath

portedly was trying to make new arrangements for the oath-taking.

A crowded schedule had been lined up today for Marshall who will retire from the army as soon as he takes the oath as Secretary from Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson.

Included was an afternoon conference with President Truman and Byrnes. The latter had expected to leave the Capital for his Springfield, S. C., home tonight.

There is plenty of work ahead for Marshall, including preparation for the Big Four foreign ministers conference at Moscow in March on German and Austrian peace settlements. The American delegation will leave in about a month for the Soviet capital.

Three Problems Certain
Diplomatic authorities said at least three problems seem certain to claim Marshall's early attention: (1) American policy toward yesterday's national elections in Poland, (2) the future American attitude toward China, and (3) a study of the Argentine situation.

Strong American disapproval of the Polish government's conduct of the election and pre-election campaigning was considered certain because of the protests already voiced here. They took sharp exception to the reported oppression of the Polish Peasant Party, which opposed the Communist-dominated bloc supporting the government.

Exactly what form the United States disapproval would take, however, is not expected to be determined until after receipt of reports from Ambassador Arthur Bliss Lane at Warsaw. These were expected to bear out official yesterday's press dispatches telling of methods by which the Polish government sought to assure itself of a sweeping majority at the polls.

The China and Argentine situations appeared little less urgent than that revolving around the Polish elections. With the return of Marshall from China American policy is expected still to be directed toward averting full scale civil war between the Nationalists and the Communists. But Marshall himself appears to have laid the basis for stronger support of Chiang Kai-Shek's central government at Nanking provided that government is reorganized to include a greater number of "liberals," as Marshall called them, in responsible positions.

Blum and Hanley Win Newburgh Ice Events on Sunday

Ray Blum, Nutley, N. J., and Miss Marion Hanley Staten Island ice star, won the Middle Atlantic Senior titles in the annual Newburgh races Sunday. They also copied titles in the Senior Men's and Women's Hudson Valley championships at Troy Saturday, the Associated Press reported today.

Miss Hanley, Middle Atlantic defending champ and Eastern Speed Skating titleholder, swept all her events at Newburgh Sunday, repeating her unanimous triumph in the Hudson Valley meet Saturday. She represented Grossingers of Liberty.

Blum, wearing the colors of the Paterson Skating Club, took the 220, and 440 and one mile events for the Middle Atlantic title. Gwendolyn DuBois, Newburgh, won the Junior Girls race Sunday.

Wyche Is Nominated To Succeed Sultana

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Maj. Gen. Ira Thomas Wyche for inspector general of the United States Army.

Wyche was named to succeed Lieut. Gen. Daniel I. Sultan, who died last week.

A field artilleryman, Wyche now holds the temporary rank of major general. Under his new appointment he will hold the rank of major general in the Regular Army during his four year term.

Ellenwood Will Speak at Dinner For Y.M. Groups

James Ellenwood, New York state "Y" secretary, will be the principal speaker at the dinner meeting of representative groups from the associations in the Mid-Hudson area on Saturday at Mid-Hudson.

The board of directors of the local "Y" will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock in order to inspect the all most completed decoration work on the Youth Center. At the business meeting the board will arrange to have a representative group of the members together with the staff and "Y" members named to attend the Middletown meeting.

Zionists Will Present Program Tonight at 8:30
The January meeting of the Kingston Zionist District will take place this evening at Temple Emanuel. An unusual program has been arranged in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the First World Zionist Congress, which is deemed to be the start of modern political Zionism.

To honor the event, the local Zionists, together with Hadassah, will present a dramatic sketch depicting the life and work of Theodore Herzl, the founder of modern Zionism. Another feature of the program will be a report on the best seller, "Thieves in the Night" by Arthur Koestler, which deals vividly with present day life in the agricultural settlements in Palestine.

The program is scheduled to start at 8:30. It will be followed by a social period during which refreshments will be served. All are cordially invited.

New York Guard Has Air Wing, Is Announcement

New York, Jan. 20 (AP)—The New York National Guard has its first air wing, the 52nd Fighter Wing.

Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Dorn, commanding general of the state guard, announced activation of the unit yesterday.

"It is certainly among the first national guard air wings to be formed in the United States," the General said. "Before world war 2 the states merely had observation squadrons."

The Wing will include the 106th Light Bombardment Group, made up of two squadrons of A-26 bombers with headquarters at Mitchel Field, Long Island, and the 107th Fighter Group, with headquarters at Niagara Falls. Of the group's four squadrons of P-47 Thunderbolts, three will be based in Rochester, Syracuse and Schenectady.

Additional aircraft will be assigned to each squadron for utility flights.

At full strength the Wing will have 198 army planes and 14,000 National Guardsmen, making a self-contained air combat force.

Cody Coal Pockets Still Burning

Fire Is Expected to Go on for Some Time

A month after the disastrous fire at the Cody Coal and Grain Company, Inc., at Malden-on-Hudson, fire is still burning in the coal pockets of the plant and may be expected to burn for some time, it was said at the plant today. When the destroyed plant with a loss in excess of $100,000 on December 16, there were between 700 and 900 tons of coal in the coal pockets.

Following the fire which destroyed the office and plant, work was begun on reconstruction of the installations. A new office has been erected and business has been resumed. Plans for rebuilding the warehouses have been made and new coal pockets will be erected on the site of the old ones as soon as materials can be procured and the debris from the smoldering coal piles can be moved.

O'Doud Says Note Made Complaints On Pierson Arrest

Peiping, Jan. 20 (AP)—Second Lt. Richard C. O'Doud of Kingston, N. C., today told a naval tribunal trying Marine Corp. William G. Pierson on a rape charge that neither the alleged victim nor Chinese police complained to marine military police the night of Pierson's arrest.

O'Doud, who was MP officer of the day testified the Marine Corps was not informed until the following day that Miss Shen Chung, 19-year-old National Peking (Peiping) University co-ed, had charged she had been raped. The charge set off a series of anti-American demonstrations by Chinese students.

The lieutenant, who speaks Chinese, told the court that no mention of rape had been made by either Miss Shen or Chinese police on Christmas eve when the girl and Pierson were brought to MP headquarters.

Chinese police explained only that Pierson "had been caught with the girl on the polo field," O'Doud related.

Miss Shen and several Chinese policemen previously testified that rape charges were made at MP headquarters the night of the alleged incident.

Testifying for the defense, O'Doud and eight other witnesses said Pierson was intoxicated Christmas Eve.

Meanwhile at Shanghai students are threatening to renew anti-American demonstrations if Pierson is not convicted of rape and given a severe sentence.

Spokesmen of university students in Shanghai announced at a Sunday press conference that they refuse to rely on the justice of what they call the "unqualified and one-sided" American court martial. Furthermore, they said, students will not stop their clamor for withdrawal of American forces until the last American soldier has left China.

Without citing one instance, they condemned "daily increasing examples of brutality by American forces in China," and declared "we refuse to be enslaved."

Byrd Believes Cut in Spending Can Be Effected

with all of the water squeezed out of it, we can undertake to cut some taxes," he said. He added that tax reductions should be small enough to permit "substantial" payments on the debt.

Sees Democratic Support
Byrd said he believes at least 15 Senate Democrats will join with him in supporting any reasonable moves the Republicans may make to cut costs.

Today's four-committee budget meeting, first to be held under the Congressional Reorganization Act, was expected to clear the way for speedy action on revenue and spending estimates which must be submitted to Congress by February 15.

The week's committee schedule calls for additional hearings by a Senate Judiciary Committee on bills to stem the flood of portland cement.

In the House, a commerce subcommittee on Wednesday will open an investigation of air safety conditions, and the Senate Labor Committee will start hearings Thursday on industrial disputes.

Former Chaplin Protege Finds Wedded Bliss
Pittsburgh, Jan. 20 (AP)—Joan Barry, the red-haired mother of a three-year-old baby who the courts said was the daughter of actor Charlie Chaplin, has been a "contented wife" for three months.

The former Chaplin protege and night club singer says she married Russell C. Seck, a Pittsburgh railroad clerk, "in a little town near Alliquipp."

"It was love at first sight," she declared. "This is the biggest role of my life—that of the happy wife and mother, in the greatest of all successes, domestic tranquility," Miss Barry said. "I am very happy and contented."

Now living with her mother, Miss Barry said she came here in 1945 with her daughter, Carol Ann Barry, under a two-year contract with Don D'Carlo, a theatrical agent. She sang in local night clubs before her marriage.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Jan. 20.—The regular monthly meeting of the Woodstock Square Club was held Thursday night in their club rooms over the Henry House Store.

Judy Wagenfroh and Linda Lilly spent Friday in New York city, getting lost on subways and, incidentally, visiting the dentist. Mrs. W. J. Kinis spent Monday and Tuesday in Oneonta.

The Woodstock Legion is in the process of changing from vapor to hot water heating in their clubrooms on Alden Hill.

This month of bills and headaches, Woodstock Town Clerk, Grant Elwyn, is having his own troubles handling the crush of taxpayers. He has spent the past few days traveling around to the various districts in the township collecting taxes.

Two Arrests

Two arrests were made in the city over the weekend by the police, and both cases were disposed of in police court today. Victoria S. Kelly, 22, of New York charged with disorderly conduct in having no visible means of support, was given a suspended sentence. Berge Borson, 34, of Flatbush avenue, charged with public intoxication, forfeited $5 bail by not appearing in court.

Hunting Deaths Drop

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 20 (AP)—Hunting fatalities dropped more than 50 per cent in New York state last year, although more than 100,000 more hunters took to the field than in 1945. Conservation Commissioner Percy B. Duryea announced yesterday that there were 11 deaths, compared with 23 the previous year. There were 93 non-fatal accidents in 1946. Ninety-four persons were injured in 1945.

Ramadier to Bid For Confirmation

ministry of state and the navy, education, agriculture and communications posts and independent were to secure the air and reconstruction, politicians said.

The M.R.P. called a meeting late today to decide whether to join the cabinet.

The M.R.P.'s defense proposal raised a new difficulty for Ramadier last night even as he was agreeing to form a cabinet.

Ramadier, two days after his nomination, notified Socialist President Vincent Auriol of his formal acceptance of the task of setting up the first permanent government of the new Fourth Republic.

This indicated he was sure of support of the M.R.P., Socialists, Communists, Radical Socialists and Rightist parties. The constitution says a premier-designate must be guaranteed the backing of all the parties he wants in his government before he agrees to form the cabinet.

However, an M.R.P. spokesman later reported an M.R.P. proposal that defense be handled in the cabinet by a minister of armaments, chosen from the Communist ranks, and a minister of the arm from some other party.

The night before, Ramadier—to get Communist backing—had said that he would give the Communists the top defense post—Minister of National Defense. In view of this, the M.R.P. source expressed doubt that Ramadier would accept the M.R.P. proposal.

Andrews Asks Review of U. S. Diplomatic Difficulties

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Chairman Andrews (R-N.Y.), of the new House Armed Services committee offered today to cut its Senate counterpart in on a projected review of the nation's diplomatic difficulties.

Andrews said he will propose a joint meeting of the House and Senate Armed Services committee to hear—first of all—a review of foreign policy by state department officials. Senator Gurney (R-S.D.), head of the Senate group, was not available immediately for his reaction.

Andrews made it clear that up on this review will depend his committee's decisions on some of the most ticklish questions confronting Congress, among them:
1. The size of the armed forces.
2. Whether the existing Draft Act should be extended.
3. The amount of military appropriations.
4. The outcome of a peacetime security program.
His proposal for a joint hearing, Andrews told a reporter, is designed to eliminate the past double feature aspect of Capitol Hill appearances by top-ranking administrative officials. In that legislative shuttle system witnesses appear first before a House committee and then before one of the Senate to repeat their testimony.
The New Yorker said his committee hopes to start hearings early next week.
Aside from its immediate problems, the committee will tackle such questions as the need for universal training, the necessity for changing the complexion of the armed forces to meet the challenge of atomic energy and the advisability of disarmament.
